

This image shows a vertical strip of a document, likely a page from a book or a folder. The left edge is a dark, textured binding or spine. The main body of the strip is a light, off-white color, appearing mostly blank but with some faint, illegible markings and a slightly grainy texture. There are some dark spots and a small, dark, triangular shape near the bottom left corner, possibly a staple or a piece of tape.

A black and white photograph of a wooden door. The door has a vertical handle and a lock mechanism. A small, dark, rectangular object is placed on the handle. The door is set within a frame, and there is a small object on the handle.
